

Market Commentary

Active listings are down 18.18% and sold listings are up 7.55% compared to this time last year. With the decrease in Months of Supply, the market in this area is showing signs of moving towards a sellers market.

| Glossary Category | Term               | Alias                 | Term Definition  |
|-------------------|--------------------|-----------------------|--|
| Report Section    | Information Bars   |                       | These bars show the specific value of the prior month compared to the value of the same time in the previous year.   |
|                   | Information Globes |                       | These globes show the change in the value of the prior month compared to the value of the same time in the previous year.  |
|                   | Market Commentary  |                       | If market commentary is available then this will give insights into if buyers or sellers have a stronger position for the area.  |
| General           |                    |                       |  |
|                   | $/SF              | Price Per Square Foot | Price per square foot. Depending on the report, this could be the List price per square foot for active listing data, or Sale price per square foot for sold listing data. |
|                   | Active Listings    |                       | Listings that show an Active Status for the time period specified.   |
|                   | Median             |                       | A value or quantity lying at the midpoint of a sorted list of observed values or quantities, such that there is an equal probability of falling above or below it.         |
|                   | Months of supply   | MOS                   | The number of active listings compared to the number of sold listings for the same period of time.   |
|                   | PPSF               | Price Per Square Foot | Price per square foot. Depending on the report, this could be the List price per square foot for active listing data, or Sale price per square foot for sold listing data. |